

My dear Madam,

The things have but just come - or I would have mended my dear child's Stockings and the Shirt at y^e Besom - I see wants a stitch - I thank you for all your kindness to him.
I send Mr. Wesley's last Shirt - he has now had his four - My love to him - I will answer his letter - but cannot make pro=mises - that no human creature in their senses can answer to.

he says however unreasonable his demands may be — I must implicitly obey — Some demands none, but a God could I obey.
I never would give up a friend for any mortal — or cringe to a foe —

Y^r Sincerely
C. S. Wesley

Mr. Wesley.
